JUNE LONG WEEKEND - Scarecrow Festival

During the long weekend every year, the village of Milton plays host to a tribe of invading scarecrows that hang around the shops and bring a sense of fun and excitement to the town. Each year a different theme is chosen and prizes are given in varying categories of the best scarecrow. Markets are also held along with entertainment for the kids.

SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER - Escape Artfest

Every year Milton-Ulladulla celebrates its wealth of artistic talent with Escape ArtFest. Showcasing art, music, poetry, theatre and film, the Festival provides an excellent opportunity for emerging artists to present their work and gain public exposure while allowing the local community an opportunity to rejoice in the artistic riches that abound in their region.

Official patrons of the festival are Rick Stein and partner Sarah Burns of Rick Stein at Bannisters Restaurant Mollymook which is a strong indication of the esteem in which the festival is held.

OCTOBER LONG WEEKEND - Settler's Fair

The second Sunday of the long weekend in October is reserved each year for the celebration of Milton's pioneer heritage. The Settler's Fair pays tribute to the district's rural roots with displays of sheep shearing and whip cracking but also provides a full weekend of entertainment with plenty of activities for the children including clowns, magicians and story tellers, street performers and market stalls.
